

Linda Baker: Workshop at Springmaid Watermedia

Dear Students.....

I normally have a couple of questions asking about a materials list and a procedure for my upcoming class. I would like to remind everyone that this class has a different approach than my technique workshops. This is an open studio where you bring your own work and I help you on a personal basis to improve your design, composition, and resolution of your work. I will not be doing regular demonstrations of pouring but instead will spend much more personal time with each of you. I will instead be focusing on overall design, self diagnosis, and helping you develop a confidence in your decision making.

We will have a great time and I look forward to working with each of you.....Linda Baker
